In Memory of Judge Burks,

In Memory of Judge Burks.

At a meeting of the Bar of Winchester, Va., held July Sih, in the court room for the purpose of doing honor to the memory of the late Hen. E. C. Burks, late a distinguished judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia, Colonel L. T. Moore was called to the chair and appointed a committee of the far, who drafted the following resolutions, a copy of the same to be sent to his family and the Richmond papers, the Virginia Law Register for their publication as follows:

1. That the Har of Winchester has learned with a keen sorrow and regret of the demise of that great jurist, Supreme Judge E. C. BURKS, whose highly ordered intellectual and personal worth shall never become diminished in the memory of the legal profession of Virginia, but shall remain an exalting inspiration unto the youth of the Bar of this entire State, in very truth worthy of their emulation.

2. That in Virginia's splendid judicial accalade his name and just fame shall remain "more lasting than brass, and against which the biting blasts of time can never prevail."

3. That to the elder members of the Win-

an never prevail."
3. That to the elder members of the Win-3. That to the elder members of the win-chester Bar, whose honor and pleasure it was to personally know of his innate kense of humor and pathos, ever shrouded as it was by his impress of judicial dis-nity the following lines are but expressive nity the following lines are but expressive of their appreciation of Judge Eucka:

"This Supreme Judge, whom we long have held so dear,
Was native's darling, shanely, strong and fair,

Of keenest wit, judgment crystal clear,
Fit for the loftlest or the lowliest lot,
Self-praise, imperial, yet of simplest ways,
At home alike in castle or in cot.
True to his aim, let others blame or praise."

SUMMER RESORTS. Are You Going to the Seashore? If so, go to Ocean View, the most popular health and pleasure resort on the

To the countless thousands who have for many reasons sought the bracing breezes which play so refreshingly on the Virginia coust, Ocean View needs no In-troduction. Its unparalleled location has given it a wide popularity as a sea-side resort.

The grandness of the coast, within a hundred yards of the best fishing grounds along the entire Atlantic coast, with boating, yachting, cycling, driving, base-ball, tennis, golf, an elegant orchestra, &c., it is just the place for pleasure seeking tourists. Those who are seeking health and de-sire a change of climate will find a mild equable climate at Ocean View, and the bracing sea air renders it a grand spot for one to recuperate and enjoy rest.

Its cuisine is in charge of a chef of wide experience and with excellent gardens from which to procure fruits, vegetables, &c., with the Chesapeake from which to procure sea food of great variety, with the choicest of meats from the Chicago meat houses, it needs only to have these viands presented in the best possible shape to meet the requirements of an exacting public.
